

WRATISLAVIA ANTIQUA 19

Jerzy Piekalski

PRAGUE, WROCŁAW AND KRAKOW:
PUBLIC AND PRIVATE SPACE AT THE TIME
OF THE MEDIEVAL TRANSITION

ZESPÓŁ DO BADAŃ ŚREDNIOWIECZNEGO I NOWOŻYTNEGO WROCŁAWIA
RESEARCH TEAM FOR STUDIES ON MEDIEVAL AND EARLY MODERN WROCŁAW

WRATISLAVIA ANTIQUA

STUDIA Z DZIEJÓW WROCŁAWIA
STUDIES ON THE HISTORY OF WROCŁAW

19

Edited by

Krzysztof Wachowski

Jan Klápště

Stefan Krabath

Marta Młynarska-Kaletynowa

Jerzy Piekalski

UNIVERSITY OF WROCLAW
Institute of Archaeology

Jerzy Piekalski

PRAGUE, WROCLAW AND KRAKOW:
PUBLIC AND PRIVATE SPACE
AT THE TIME
OF THE MEDIEVAL TRANSITION

WROCLAW 2014

Reviewed by: Jan Klápšte
Translation from Polish: Anna Kinecka
Proofreading: Agnes Kerrigan
Editing: Karol Bykowski
Layout: Marek J. Battek

Cover design: Barbara Kaczmarek
Cover illustration:
Wrocław in 1562 r., Weiner's plan
according to reproduction by J. Partsch from 1826.
(after: Wrocław na planach XVI–XX wiek,
Wrocław 1999)

ISBN 978-83-61416-13-5

Uniwersytet
Wrocławski

University of Wrocław
Institute of Archaeology

This book was published with the financial support of the Faculty of Historical and Pedagogical Sciences
University of Wrocław

© Copyright by Uniwersytet Wrocławski
(University of Wrocław) and author, Wrocław 2014

Print and bound:
Wrocławska Drukarnia Naukowa PAN
im. St. Kulczyńskiego, Sp. z o.o.
53-505 Wrocław, 4 J. Lelewela St.

CONTENTS

I. Introduction	7
II. The origins of pre-incorporation proto-urban centres in East Central Europe	13
1. The definition of a medieval town	13
2. The problem of pre-incorporation proto-urban centres in East Central Europe	17
a. Prague	18
b. Wrocław	31
c. Krakow	40
3. Main features of proto-towns of the inner zone of East Central Europe	45
III. Incorporated towns	49
1. The question of incorporation and the new structure of towns	49
a. Prague	50
b. Wrocław	54
c. Krakow	63
2. The principal features of the transition	68
IV. Organization of the burgage plot space	73
V. The house	91
1. Merchant's and craftsmen's houses in the western zone of Central Europe, 11th-12th century. .	91
2. Timber and stone houses of Prague	104
3. Early houses of Wrocław	116
4. Houses of Krakow	129
VI. Sanitation and street surface construction	139
VII. Prague, Wrocław and Krakow – the towns of new Europe. Conclusion	155
Bibliography	161